

To Whom It May Concern,

I would like to formally offer my personal recommendation for Kali Mungovan as it pertains to your organization. In her time as an intern with Oregon Athletics, Kali displayed an exceptional work ethic and a strong passion for her work that made her a pleasure to work with.

I worked with Kali last spring in my time with the University of Oregon Athletic Department. Kali was one of 15 "Diamond Duck" interns, the promotional team for the intercollegiate baseball program. Kali was responsible for marketing and promoting the Oregon Baseball program both at games and in the community, especially on campus.

Kali first stood out to me in the interview process, a top candidate from the 30 interviewees and over 100 applicants. After speaking with her just for a few minutes, I could tell she was a hard, dedicated worker with a strong passion for marketing, public relations, and promotional practices. Once hired, Kali was one of the standout interns, always going the extra mile to ensure that fans could enjoy a premiere athletic experience. She always came to me with new ideas for in-game promotional efforts, and was often a go-to problem solver in tight situations. Moreover, she was respected among her working peers, and proved to be a great team leader in certain situations.

Kali was a valuable employee, and her enthusiasm and willingness to learn set her apart from her peers. I have no doubt that he will bring the same attitude and professionalism to your organization, and will prove to be an important and invaluable member moving forward.

If I can be of any further assistance, or if you would like any more information, please do not hesitate to contact me with questions.

Sincerely,

Dominic Simons
